

SECOND CORINTHIANS

LESSON ONE

CHAPTER ONE

Before beginning this study you should take time to read through Second Corinthians from beginning to end. This will help you better understand each section in the context of the entire book. While doing the study read each question carefully using the given scripture reference to find your answer. May the Lord bless you as you study the book of Second Corinthians.

INTRODUCTION

AUTHOR: The apostle Paul

PLACE OF WRITING: Written from somewhere in Macedonia, perhaps Philippi.

DATE OF WRITING: Second Corinthians was probably written at sometime between 54 and 58 A.D. while Paul was on his third missionary journey. It was probably written 4 to 5 months after 1 Corinthians.

PURPOSE, THEME AND SUBJECT

MATTER OF THE LETTER: Corinth was the seat of government for Southern Greece or Achaia. It was noted for its wealth, and for the luxurious, immoral and vicious habits of the people. It had a large mixed population of Romans, Greeks, and Jews. Paul visited Corinth for the first time around the year 51 A.D.

Although Paul's coworker, Timothy, carried the first letter (1 Corinthians 4:17; 16:10), his other companion, Titus, had visited the city since it had been delivered and reported back to the apostle about how the church had responded to what Paul had written and what the general condition of the church was. People had called into question Paul's sincerity because of his delay in visiting them.

2 Corinthians seems to have been written to inform the believers about the reason for Paul's change of plans to visit them. He commends the believers because they apparently had responded to his instructions regarding the man that had been in an immoral relationship (1 Corinthians 5:1-2). There were, however, a number of other concerns that had arisen: Paul defends the authority of his ministry, instructs the believers about financial giving and the collection for the believers in Jerusalem and warns the Corinthians against false apostles.

2 Corinthians has been described as the most personal and emotional of all the Pauline epistles. It is in this letter that we see a very human side of the great apostle.

Please read the entire book of 2 Corinthians. _____ Check.

Please memorize the following verse and be prepared to write it out at the end of this lesson.

PAUL’S CHANGE OF PLANS

Note: Paul told the Corinthians in his first letter that he planned to visit them (1 Corinthians 4:19) however, he felt it necessary to change his plans because he knew that he would have to be harsh with them because of the many problems that were in the church. Because he did not come as he said he would there were some that questioned his integrity and accused him of not being true to his word. In this section Paul defends his character.

2. (v. 4) What was Paul's intention for writing the Corinthians? _____

FORGIVENESS OF THE SINNER

Note: Although Paul does not say specifically, many believe that 2 Corinthians 2:5-11 is referring to the individual that had sinned by living with his father's wife as mentioned in 1 Corinthians 5. Please read 1 Corinthians 5 again to remind yourself of the circumstances regarding that situation.

3. (vs. 5) Who has been grieved most by the person's disobedience? _____

PAUL'S MINISTRY

12. (vs. 13) What did Paul do since he was not at peace when he could not find his companion? _____

Note: This brief comment by Paul shows us that it is often not easy to determine God's specific will for us in every situation. Since a door had been opened for Paul to preach the gospel in Troas it would only make sense to believe it was God's desire for him to stay there and take advantage of the opportunity. Yet because he felt uneasy about not knowing the well-being of his friend and fellow minister, Titus, he decided to move on. If even Paul found himself wondering and unsettled about God's specific will for his life we should not be surprised if we find ourselves faced with similar questions and uncertainties. After we have determined if a particular decision is within the revealed will of God, e.g. God will never ask us to lie, steal or disobey one of His commandments, we are then left to determine the best choice based on our circumstances and feelings.

13. (vs. 14) For what does Paul give thanks in this verse? _____

Note: The following explanation from the NIV Study Bible helps to understand what Paul is describing in verses 14-16. "The imagery is that of a Roman triumph in which the victorious general would lead his soldiers and the captives they had had taken in festive procession, while the people watched and applauded and the air was filled with the sweet smell released by the burning of spices in the streets. So the Christian, called to spiritual warfare is triumphantly led by God in Christ, and it is through him that God spreads everywhere the 'fragrance' of the knowledge of Christ." (NIV Study Bible, Grand Rapids, MI, Zondervan © 1995, p. 1766.)

14. (vs. 15) How are Christians described in this verse and to whom are we this? _____

15. (vs 16) Describe in your own words why Paul would say that to one group we are the aroma of life and to the other the aroma of death. _____

16. (vs. 17) How does Paul describe his motivation for preaching the gospel? _____
